Moving Diplomacy.

Become a diplomat!

FAUMUN gives you the opportunity to experience multilaterality first hand!

How often do you have the opportunity to improve your soft skills and social competencies during your studies while working in an international and interdisciplinary team?

With FAUMUN, you have the chance to engage in real-world international relations and experience multilaterality first hand.

Our preparatory programs and the participation in simulations of the UN, called Model United Nations (MUN), allows you to discover the every day life of diplomats, acquire intercultural competences, as well as demonstrate your organizational and time management skills. Further, FAUMUN boosts your self-confidence and challenges you to hone your capabilities in difficult and demanding situations.
